

IOWA TAX COMPARISON.

General Aviation is a mobile industry, and state sales tax matters greatly when it comes to where aircraft operators choose to maintain and base their aircraft. While convenience is a concern, expense is the principal motive—even if it means leaving or skipping over Iowa to save money in neighboring states. To be competitive in a region with aviation-friendly states, Iowa's tax rate needs to be re-examined.

